THIS WEEK IN PADRES HISTORY

April 25, 1969

In the first major trade in franchise history, the Padres trade Opening Day starter Dick Selma (was the Padres' third-round pick in the expansion draft) to the Chicago Cubs for RHPs Joe Niekro and Gary Ross and INF Francisco Libran.

The Padres replace their original manager Preston Gomez with Don Zimmer.

April 22, 1977

LHP Bob Shirley retires a franchise-record 25 straight hitters from the first inning to the ninth inning in the Padres 4-2 win at Houston. He allows two runs on three hits with five strikeouts in 8.2 innings.

April 20, 1978

SS Ozzie Smith makes one of the greatest defensive plays in Padres history. ATL's Burroughs hits a grounder toward center that appeared to be beyond Smith's reach. Smith dives, the ball hits a divot and takes a wild hop above his head. He reaches back and above his head with his bare hand, catches the ball, jumps to his feet and throws him out at first.

April 22, 1988

Tony Gwynn singles in the bottom of the first off Houston's Nolan Ryan for the 1,000th hit of his career. The game also starts a franchise-record 31.2 straight scoreless innings pitched against the Astros, the longest run of scoreless innings against a single opponent in club history.

April 24, 1999

Before their largest home crowd in franchise history (61,674), Tony Gwynn ties a franchise record by hitting safely in eight straight at-bats as the Padres defeat Arizona 7-2 at Qualcomm Stadium.

April 25, 2001

Padres OF Rickey Henderson draws his 2,063rd walk to pass Babe Ruth and become baseball's all-time walks leader. He will finish the season and his career with 2,141 walks.

April 23, 2003

The Padres and the City of San Diego reach an agreement to enlarge Petco Park, completing the final design parameters for the ballpark that is already under construction.
