“It is very important as a catcher to stretch before and after games. You have to make sure you take care of your hips and legs. Our position is a very demanding position, and you don’t want to take any chances of pulling or tweaking something during a game. Stretching is very important in all aspects of life, but especially for our position of catcher.”

Grayson Greiner;
Detroit Tigers Catcher