DID YOU KNOW?

Because of their size, strength, and predatory skills, tigers are considered one of the "big cats." Lions, cheetahs, jaguars, and cougars are also part of this grouping.

THIS WEEK IN DETROIT TIGERS HISTORY:

On July 28, 1985, Darrell Evans' sixth-inning solo blast off Ken Schrom proved to be the difference when the Tigers beat the Minnesota Twins at the Metrodome, 3-2. It was his 300th career homerun, and it comes on a 3-0 pitch at exactly 3:00 pm.
